Columbus Civic Center Celebrates Georgia Cities Week with Kids Bash

[Columbus, Georgia] – The Columbus Civic Center is proud to celebrate Georgia Cities Week with a fun-filled, family-friendly event, Kids Bash, taking place on Saturday, April 25, 2026, from 12:00 pm to 3:00 pm at the Columbus Civic Center.

Kids Bash will bring the community together for an afternoon dedicated to children and families, featuring a variety of exciting activities and entertainment. Guests can enjoy bouncy houses, kids' entertainment, interactive games, food trucks, face painting, appearances by mascots, and participation from local children's organizations, creating a lively and engaging atmosphere for attendees of all ages.

As part of Georgia Cities Week, the event highlights the City of Columbus' commitment to creating engaging experiences for local families while showcasing organizations and groups that support youth development and community involvement.

Admission is free for children, parents, and guardians, making Kids Bash an accessible and welcoming event for families across the community.

Local youth-focused organizations are invited to participate in Kids Bash and connect with families in the community. Organizations interested in being part of the event are encouraged to confirm participation no later than March 31, 2026, to ensure proper planning and coordination.

For participation opportunities or additional information, please contact Kanise Wiggins, Interim Director, at the Columbus Civic Center.

Kids Bash is expected to be an exciting highlight of Georgia Cities Week, offering families a memorable afternoon filled with fun, learning, and community spirit.
