Severe Weather Preparedness Week for the state of Georgia – February 2-6, 2026

[Columbus, Georgia] – As we approach what is typically the most active part of the year for severe weather, Severe Weather Preparedness Week provides an excellent opportunity to learn more about the dangers of severe weather and know how and when to take proper actions when severe weather is expected and hits. Please take time now to review your own preparedness plans.

Each day this week, we will cover specific topics related to severe weather preparedness via our local media and social media outlets.

Monday (Feb 2) -- Family Preparedness (including NOAA Weather Radio and Wireless Emergency Alerts)

Tuesday (Feb 3) -- Thunderstorm Safety (Hail and Damaging Wind Threats & Impacts)

Wednesday (Feb 4) -- Tornado Safety ** WEATHER PERMITTING, at 9:30 a.m., we will test the outdoor warning sirens in conjunction with a statewide test.

Thursday (Feb 5) -- Lightning Safety

Friday (Feb 6) -- Flash Flooding & Flood Safety
